

Terms of Service

Effective 11/01/2006

Returns

I understand that all orders are custom orders and cannot be returned. Refunds will be granted on a case-by-case basis. In the event that PictureIT has made a mistake in content or spelling, the product will be corrected and replaced at no additional cost.

Copyright

I promise that the photos supplied to PictureIT are mine to use and do not violate any copyright laws. I understand that it is illegal to reproduce or distribute copyrighted material without the permission of the copyright owner. Professionally taken photos must be submitted with written permission from the photographer.

Privacy

The images submitted to PictureIT are for the client's personal use only. PictureIT will not use any client images without prior written consent. We will not share your personal information with any third parties. Any information collected is for internal use only.

Payment

Orders must be paid in full before they will be submitted for final processing.